About ✎

Hi , Myself Khushi — currently pursuing my BTech in Computer Science and Engineering at Rungta International Skills University. I enjoy exploring how technology and creativity can come together, whether it's breaking down complex programming concepts into simple steps or designing digital content that makes an impact.
I've always been curious about how things work, which is why I love problem-solving, web development, and experimenting with new ideas. Alongside academics, I also enjoy creating presentations, posters, and awareness campaigns that connect with people visually.
Right now, I'm focused on building my skills, working on projects that challenge me, and preparing for opportunities like internships where I can learn and contribute. I believe in learning by doing, and I'm excited to connect with people who share the same passion for technology, innovation, and creativity.
